CINCINNATI, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13.

On Monday morning, a man representing himself to be a machinist, carpenter, etc., called at 145 West Third street and asked for work, being, as he stated, out of employment, destitute and hungry. He was furnished a breakfast, and a job was offered him of building a shed and of sawing a load of wood. After his meal he complained of being unwell and left, but came back in time to get his dinner, after which the lady, at his suggestion, gave him three copper kettles to mend, worth seven, ten and fourteen dollars. He said that he had an opportunity of doing such jobs in the shop of Gibson & Co., on Vine street, but this firm know nothing of the tinker, and neither he nor the kettles have since appeared. He is about forty years of age, and thought to be a Scotchman, Our citizens would do well to look out for him.

The landlord refused to accept the same, when a ten-dollar bill was presented, which also proved to be of a similar character. Mr Finger, giving his barkeeper the wink, stepped out for the purpose of procuring the services of a proper officer, but had not proceeded far before he was informed that his "friends" had "planked up" the equivalent-ten cents, in specie-and retired, perhaps to seek a more favorable field for operation.

CASE DECIDES BY JUDGE STORES.—Evans and Swift vs Goodin and othors. In this case it was decided, lst. That the grantee of real property can not maintain an action for rent ingainst a tenant in possession of the premisos under the granter, and who is afterward permitted to remain in possession, without atonement to the grantee, or demand medic for the rent by him. There must be a tenance, express or implied, exist before the action will lie.

2d. That, by the law of March 17, 1826, this Court has intisdiction where the cause is removed from the Common Pleas, if it had original jurisdiction. Arguments were heard by Judges Gholson and Spencer in submitted cases.

Habeas Corpe.—The Police Bitl.—The hearing of the writ of habeas corpus, directed to John Bauker and Phiness Hudson, was laid over until the last of the week.

SERVICE or JUROES.—During the Impanieling of a Jury, reference was unde by Judge Storer to the recent law passed by the Legislature, which gave the right to challenge a party called to serve as a juror, if he had served on the pained during the term. It seemed to him a singular law, and that those who introduced it had not read the old law, brought in several areat privilege on the blae—that law (the old one) rendered a party inclipile, as a regular juror, who had already served within the year, He should held to the old law until Turther advised.

COMMON PLEAS.

Common Pleas.

Criminal Side,—The bail in the case of Absaloms Grapevine, charged with murder in the second degree, was fixed at $3,000 by Judge Mallon, and the trial was continued until June.

B. Plunket, indicted for malicious stabbing, tendered a plea of assault and battery, which was accepted, and upon inquiry into the circumstances by the Court it appeared that a rumor hast reached the defendant that the presenting witness had spoken of his (the debudant's) family in a manner calculated to provoke his anger, and while the parties were under the influence of liquor, they came together, and in the collision the defendant used a knife. He received a good character from his employer, and in view of all the circumstances Judge Mallon thought the case did not call for a heavy punishment. The use of the knife could not, however, be overlooked, though it appeared that the defendant had been set upon by several parties. One day's imprisonment in the dungson and to pay coats was the sentence. In another case against the same defendant he was sentenced to pay the costs.

Thomas Bavis was arraigned on a charge of perjury, alleged to be committed before a Notary Public in a deposition intended to be used in a trial at Buffalo, where suit was brought to recover money staked on a prize fight. The accused put in a plea of not guilty.

Retirement of Mayor Thomas.

In compliance with a request of Mayor Thomas, the Police force of the City of Cincinnati met at the Council Chamber yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of hearing his valedictory address, and receiving an introduction to the newly elected Mayor, R. M. Bishop.

The meeting being organized, Mayor Thomas remarked, that in retiring he was happy to say that his relations with those under his control had been of the most friendly nature. He had always found them kind and courteous, ever willing to perform their duties, and sincerely hoped that the same relations would exist between them and his successor in office. He then introduced Mayor Bishop, who made a neat and appropriate speech, particularly reommending strict temperance habits.

James L. Ruffin, Esq., then stepped forward, and in a neat little speech presented his Honor with a handsome gold-headed cane, bearing the following inscription: "Presented to N. W. Thomas, by the Police Department of Cincinnati, Ohio, April 12, 1859." Mayor Thomas remarked that he was taken very much by surprise, so much so as to render it impossible for him to give expression to his feelings. He kindly thanked the gentlemen for the honor bestowed upon him, and expressed the hope that, when "life's fitful dream was o'er," he might meet them in a better world.

The presentation was accompanied with the preamble and resolutions.

At a meeting of the members of the Police force of the city of Cincinnati, held at Ninthstreet Station-house, on the 12th day of April. 1859, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Hon. N. W. Thomas' term of office, as Mayor of the city of Cincinnati, ha expired, Resolved, That we, the Police force of the city, return to him our warmest thanks for the kindness and courtesy which he has always manifested toward us. Resolved, That in his retirement from office he carries with him our best wishes for hi health and continued prosperity. J. L. RUFFIN, Ch'm.

A. Cook, Sec'y.

OHIO MECHANICS' INSTITUTE .- A regular meet ing of the members took place last evening it the large hall of the Institute, Mr. Wilstach President, in the Chair. The Scoretary, Mr. Whitson, having read the minutes of the pre vious meeting, the majority report of the committee appointed to inquire into and report on the celebrated "Shell Question" was presented which recommended that Professor Christie b paid interest for the use of the Cabinet, at the rate of eight per cent. per annum.

A resolution for authorizing the Treasurer to pay over to the Professor the sum of $160 (half a year's interest), based upon the recommendation of the report, was submitted, which led t a very prolonged discussion as to the obligation of the Institute to pay any thing for the accommodation extended to the Professor, by permitting this Cabinet to be removed for safe keeping within the walls of their building at a time when he did not know where to stow it away.

The assertions and counter-assertions, questions and explanations, statements and corrections of statements, came so fast and thickconfusedly thick, one after another, (some contending that the Institute owed the Professor nothing, while others were equally positive that he was entitled to $360 a year)-that one of the members, in view of the fact that "the more the subject was inquired into the more mixed it became," proposed that the resolution be laid over, which was agreed to. In the course of the discussion a "spice" o personality appeared-Mr. Latta proposing to pay half the alleged debt if Mr. Wilstach would pay the other half, which proposal the latter gentleman accepted; but Mr. Caldwell firmly objected to any such mode of settling the question at issue. He said, if there was any thing due to the Professor by the Institute, he wanted to pay his share, and he, for one, would never consent that any personal feeling between members should be permitted to interfere with his responsibility to bear his lawful share of the burdens of the Institute. Mr. Caldwell's view of the matter was favorably received.

On the question of nominating a committee of ten for making arrangements for the Seventeenth Exhibition being submitted, an amendment was proposed by Mr. Bruce, and seconded by Mr. Thorpe, that five be substiuted for ten, but it failed to pass.

The following gentlemen were then unani nously appointed to form the Exhibition Committee: Geo. W. Runyan, J. M. Henry, B. C. Stephenson, and H. L. Turney.

A resolution for authorizing the Clerk to cut off all defaulters in the sum of $6 from the record of membership, led to a brief discussion, which was brought to a close by the adoption of an amendment, by Mr Caldwell, that a provision for dealing with defaulters (of which the Constitution was at present innocent) be introduced at next meeting. Meeting adjourned.

BRIDGET DUFFY'S TESTIMONY OF THE SUF FERINGS OF MR. AND MRS. SICKLES DURING THE NIGHT OF AGES

Washington, April 12.—Judge Crawford ok his seat on the bench at twenty minutes

ast ten o'clock. Mr. Sickles was brought in and placed in the chek. Rev. Dr. Payne, pastor of the Episcopal Church, occupied a seat among the prisoner's counsel, and the Rev. Mr. Haley, a seat near the prisoner. Mr. Wooldridge, who has figured so conspicuously in the case, occupied a seat next to Mr. Sickles' father. He is a tall, powerfully built man, of some 35 years of age. He lost the use of his lower limbs by an accident, and has, consequently, to use crutches He wears a thick mustache, but no whiskers and is a resolute-looking man.

John J. McElhone was the first witnes called for the defense, and was examined by Mr. Brady; resides in Philadelphia; is one of the reporters of the Congressional Globe; has known Mr. Sickles two or three years; has nown Mrs. Sickles more than a year; visited sickles' frequently, and was on terms of friend ship with him; has known Key seven or eight years; had frequent opportunities of knowing the relations that existed between him and Sickles. Whenever I saw them together, they always held toward each other the language and appearance of good friends. Mr. Key frequently expressed his friendship for Sickles. Jonah D. Hoover examined—Resides in Washington, and formerly United States Mar-shal. Mr. Key was my most intimate and cherished friend for ten years or more. First became acquainted with Sickles sometime after the inauguration of President Pierce; became intimate with him. I think I introduced Key to Sickles either at Willard's or at my own house. The relations which existed between Key and Sickles were relations of friendship. He was examined regarding the correspondence between Key and Sickles, which took place it 1858. Key told witness that he had received note from Sickles, telling him that so far as that affair was concerned, he was perfectly sat issed, and that he hoped their relations would continue as previously. Q.—In your interview with Sickles, what expression of kindness toward Key did he use? A.—He said he had always liked Key; that he hought him a man of honor; that this thing shocked him when he first heard of it, but that wing to Key's and my assurance, he was wil ing to meet him as formerly.

Rev. Smith Payne examined—Am a clergynan of the Episcopal Church; reside in Wash-ngton; know Sickles and his wife; made their acquaintance twelve months ago; saw Sickles on the Saturday preceding the day of Key's death; it was about five o'clock in the afternoon; I was coming from the Capitol in a car-riage with my son; as we were passing Lafay-Square my attention was called by my so Sickles, who was passing, going castward; was struck by his appearance, and called my

He was walking the opposite way homeward. We saw him n front of the President's house. We saw him approaching; was walking rapidly; he did not ddress me; I don't know that he saw me. Hon. R. J. Walker sworn—Either three, o wenty minutes after three o'clock, I saw Sick-les in his own house on the afternoon of Sunday, February 27th. As he came in his man-ner appeared excited; there was something strange and unusual about it; his voice wa mewhat different from the manner in which had usually heard him speak; he advance and took me by the hand, and I think he the said, "A thousand thanks for coming to see n under this circumstance.'

He had scarcely repeated these words who I saw a great change in his appearance. He became very much convulsed; indeed he threw himself on the sofa, and covered his face with is hands. He then broke into an agony of nnatural and unearthly sounds, the most re narkable I ever heard-something like a eam, interrupted by violent sobbing. From his convulsed appearance in the act of writhing, his condition appeared to me very fright ful and appalling, so much so that I though much if it Instell longer, he must become ane. He was indulging in constant exclamations about dishonor having been brought or his house, wife and child. He seemed particu larly to dwell on the disgrace brought upon his

I endeavored to pacify him, but with very little effect. I turned from him to go for a physician, when he seemed to stop a little in these violent exclamations, and finally they broke off; the spasms became more violent as they consed; must have been there over half an hour. I accompanied him from his house to the jail; was alarmed at his condition, not

I was from a great variety of causes, much excited; never was more so than when the convulsions came on; I thought I would go for a physician At this point, Mr. Stanton, who was near the risoner, asked that the cross-examination be

The following is Mrs. Sickles' confession thich was offered in the evidence.

"I have been in a house in Fifteenth street with Mr. Key; how many times I don't know. I believe the house belongs to a colored man; he house is unoccupied. I commenced going there in the latter part of January. I have been in it alone and with Mr. Key; usually staid an hour or more. There is a bed in it in the second story, and I did what is usual for a ricked woman to do. The latimacy com senced this winter, when I came from New York, in that house; an intimacy of an im-proper kind. I have met him half-a-dozen nes or more, at different hours of the day, or Monday of this week and Wednesday als he meeting was arranged when we met in the treet and at parties. I never would speak to sim when Mr. Sickles was at home, because knew he did not like me to speak to him. did not see Mr. Key for some days after I got here. He then told me that he had hired the ouse as a place where he and I could meet agreed to it. There was nothing in the bouse to cat or drink; the room is warmed by a wood fire. Mr. Key generally goes there first. We have walked there together, say four times; I do not think any more than that. I was there on Wednesday last, between two and three o'clock. I was there alone. Laura (her daughter) was at Mrs. Hoover's; Mr. Key took her and left her there at my request. From there I went to Fifteenth street to meet Mr. Key, and from there to the milk-woman's immediately after. Mr. Key left Laura at Mrs. Hoover's; I met him in Fifteenth street; I went in at the back gate; went into the room, and there an improper interview was had. I undressed myself, and Mr. Key indressed also. This occurred on Wednesday the 23d of February, 1859. He has kissed me in this house a number of times. I do no eny that we had a connection nouse last spring, a year ago, in the parlor on the sofa. Mr. Sickles was sometimes out of town and sometimes at the Capitol. I think the intimacy commenced in April or May, 1858 I did not think it safe to meet him in thi house, because there were servants who might suspect something. As a general thing I have worn a black and white woolen plaid dress and beaver hat, trimmed with black velvet. I have worn a black silk dress there also. Also blaid silk dress, a black velvet cloak trimme with lace, and a black velvet shawl trimmed with fringe. On Wednesday I either had on my brown dress or black and white woolen dress, beaver hat and velvet shawl.

I arranged with Mr. Key to go in the back way, after leaving Laura at Mrs. Hoover's the met me at Douglas'; the arrangement to g in at the back way was either made in the street or at Douglas', as we would likely b seen. The house is in Fifteenth street, between K and L streets, on the left-hand side of th We arranged the interview for Wednes day in the street, I think on Monday: I wen in at the front door, it was open. We occu pied the same room, undressed and went to be together.
